CANADIAN BANKERS DECLINE CENTRAL BANK JOB

NOT CAPABLE OF TAKING CHARGE SAYS R. B. BENNETT

Commons Removes "Canadian-born" Requirement For Governorship—Sir E. Peacock Mentioned.

OTTAWA, June 22.—The bankers of Canada were of the opinion that there was no man among them capable of taking over the control of the Central Bank, Premier R. B. Bennett told the House of Commons yesterday. He was opposing a move launched by Maxime Raymond, (Lib. Reformer), to make the Bank of Canada bill require that the governor, deputy governor and assistant deputy governor be Canadian domiciled in Canada.

APPOINTMENT RELIEF BOARD RECOMMENDED

Committee Of Three Would Deal With Complaints Of Jobless

Appointment of a "reference committee" of three to deal with complaints by direct relief cases will be made if a recommendation by the civic by-law committee meets with the approval of city council.

At Thursday's meeting the by-law body accepted a motion by Ald. C. L. Gibbs to the effect that commissioners be instructed to conduct an investigation into the advisability and feasibility of appointing a reference committee composed of a representative of the provincial relief department and two from the city relief branch. Such a committee would sit daily to deal with complaints in connection with relief.

REPORT DIRECT
Commissioners will report directly to city council on this recommendation.

Referring to the work of such a committee, Ald. Gibbs said it could take under advisement the regulations laid down by the provincial relief department, and that a committee would sit daily to deal with complaints in connection with relief.

CLAIMS WORKY
Ald. H. D. Ainlay expressed the opinion that it was difficult for commissioners to carry on the administrative work of the city when they were being continually worried with complaints about relief.

Mayor D. K. Knott felt that such a committee would not lighten the burden as far as commissioners were concerned, but to a great extent, as relief cases would still want to interview the civic heads about their grievances.

WOULD RELIEVE
He believed that the reference committee would take much of the work off the shoulders of the commissioners by dealing with the various problems at present brought to the attention of the administrative officers.

The relief committee appointed some time ago to study the relief problems had failed because it had not been able to get the relief cases to the relief board, said Ald. J. W. Fry. He was dubious whether the proposed body would be more successful.

P. Griffin and R. Menzies, members of the relief committee, said they were firm in their view that some sort of appeal board would have to be set up to deal with the multitudinous complaints submitted by those on relief.

Killed In Fall
MATLOCK, England, June 22.—Rev. John Arnold Chapman, 49, professor of theology at the University of Cambridge, was killed in a fall from a cliff while on a holiday.

The supreme power in connection with the bank was vested in the Governor in Council, Mr. Bennett. There was first the provision that the governor of the bank must be acceptable to the government and next the provision that the resolutions of the board could be effective without the concurrence of the governor. Then to maintain a constant line of communication to the deputy minister of finance was made a director. A constant communication with the bank was maintained and the gov-

PEACE RIVER MURDER WAS PREMEDITATED

Accused Ferguson Says He and Sweetheart Planned Killing

PEACE RIVER, June 22.—Chivalry plays no part in the testimony given by John Ferguson as he stands trial accused of murdering Louis John last March 15. Yesterday he declared that Marcelle John, his young sweetheart, discussed with him the murder of either her father or mother three days before the actual killing was consummated. He also reiterated his declaration that it was the girl who fired the fatal shot, asserting that the first shot, fired by himself, merely wounded John in the face. When the girl viewed her wounded father, said Ferguson, she grabbed the rifle, stood behind the prostrate form, turned her face away, pulled the trigger and sent the old man into eternity.

Steadfastly Ferguson denied former allegations made to Corporal Faulkner of the R.C.M.P., in which he took sole responsibility for the killing, voluntarily admitting that he fired both shots.

EVENTS RE-ENACTED
Repeatedly at the Thursday afternoon session, the accused was taken out of the witness box to demonstrate in action the events which he described in words. His rifle brand, such a committee would sit daily to deal with complaints in connection with relief.

Rebuttal testimony was adduced in an attempt to show that the girl, Marcelle, was unfamiliar with firearms and had never known Marcelle to ever handle a gun. Mrs. Olive John, widow of the deceased, corroborated this, definitely stating that Marcelle wanted to learn to shoot once when her brother had a 22 practicing on a target about four years ago, but that both she and John objected to her using firearms and that therefore she never handled a gun.

Dr. Sutherland was called to corroborate the testimony he had heard Dr. McIntyre of High Prairie give in connection with the autopsy. He agreed that the first wound would stagger or make groggy the victim, and that the second bullet was absolutely fatal and one resecting the shock would collapse with instant death owing to the lungs being flooded with blood. He could not see how either of the counts could have been made if conditions were the same as those demonstrated in open court as the angles were completely at variance with the facts.

NEEDS TESTIMONY
This completed the case for the crown and after asking the jury if they would object to an adjournment or would prefer to carry on further Thursday, the jury and court considered they had had a hard day and consented readily to adjournment. This morning at 10 o'clock counsel opened a case for the defence.

100,000 Men Will Be Added To CCC
WASHINGTON, June 22.—More than 100,000 young men, war veterans and experienced workmen, will be selected this month for enrollment in the Civilian Conservation Corps. In July Director Fechner announced today.

The new men will replace those who have already dropped out or who will be discharged prior to July 1. Fechner said.

Scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Friday, the inquest into the death of George A. Montague, 65, who was killed in a collision between two autos on the South Side Wednesday night, was postponed Friday morning to an indefinite date by the coroner due to the enforced absence of the Crown's main witnesses.

James Langlands, driver of the car in which Montague was killed, was believed to have been the largest tumor ever removed from a human being.

The woman, aged 41, weighed 115 pounds when she entered hospital. Removal of the tumor and its fluid contents reduced her weight to 60 pounds. Doctors here said there was a good chance she would recover.

MONSTER TUMOR REMOVED FROM ONTARIO WOMAN
KINGSTON, Ont., June 22.—A tumor weighing 35 pounds was removed Thursday from a woman by the Kingston general hospital staff. It was believed to have been the largest tumor ever removed from a human being.

The woman, aged 41, weighed 115 pounds when she entered hospital. Removal of the tumor and its fluid contents reduced her weight to 60 pounds. Doctors here said there was a good chance she would recover.

The French perfume industry has been estimated to exceed $10,000,000 in value in annual production.

SEATTLE DOCKERS WILL NOW TIE-UP ALASKA SHIPPING

SEATTLE, June 22.—Within a few hours after the long awaited reopening of the port of Seattle began, the unloading of a vessel under local police protection, striking longshoremen replied that each other in a manner that Alaska bound ships, which had been permitted to operate under a special agreement.

Meanwhile, non-union workers were ahead at pier 40 unloading the British motorship Modavia, which arrived June 18 with a cargo of oil. They were to start on the pier after the long awaited reopening of the port of Seattle began.

Work on the Modavia started after the first open clash between police and pickets on the waterfront here. Three picketers were hurt and one was killed. The latter was given first aid on the scene and later in a hospital.

Horse Is Unhurt In 100-Foot Fall On Side Of Cliff
LIVINGSTON, Mont., June 22.—High upon Day's pass on the new Red Lodge-Cooke City highway Engineer E. B. Hubbard was leading a horse over a one-hundred foot fall.

Suddenly the animal went broke, carrying the horse off the cliff. It fell to a bench 90 feet below. As Hubbard peered down the canyon the horse scrambled to its feet unhurt.

OLD TIMERS MAKE MERRY AT LAKEVIEW

Record Attendance At Annual Frolic Of Pioneers

Dancing every kind of known dance from Red River jig to modern fox-trots members of the Edmonton and Northern Alberta Old Timers Association congregated at Lakeview, Cooking Lake, Thursday for their annual picnic.

The attendance was one of the largest in the history of the organization, with between 1000 and 2000 present.

"It's the best picnic we've ever had," declared many a grizzled veteran of the plains as he watched his way off the ballroom floor of Lakeview Inn in the early hours of Friday.

It was a real old-time basket picnic. The members brought their own baskets, with the central committee providing tea and coffee. Picknicks were seen spread out under the trees in hundreds of yards around the Inn.

In the afternoon a comprehensive track and field program was held, with young and old taking part under the supervision of local officials.

A feature of the event was the grandmother's hoedown game, which was closely fought.

A shower of rain at 4 p.m. necessitated calling the contest which it was unfinished. But all felt that it was a hangover from the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ottewill of Clover Bar were crowned to be the oldest couple present. Mr. and Mrs. Blom of Torfild the oldest individual. Jim Inker and Mrs. Anna Thelwell were other close runners up. The last mentioned having the distinction of travelling the longest distance to the picnic.

NAZIS DEVISE HUMILIATION AS PENALTY
BREMEN, Germany, June 22.—A Nazi official named Warneke, who was chief of the public works of the city, today was forced to march through the streets wearing a sash and carrying a placard reading "I am a criminal" and "I am a worker's enemy." The punishment was given to him for having caused a controversy over Nazi policies.

"We have no arms," Goebbels said, "but we have nothing better." Goebbels said, "Any kind of criticism may be offered, but only criticism which has worked to produce something."

There was no indication that his remarks were noticed by Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen, whose recent visit to Berlin had caused a controversy over Nazi policies.

GOEBBELS IS PROUD OF HIS THIRD REICH

BERLIN, June 22.—Paul Joseph Goebbels, Chancellor Hitler's minister of propaganda, denounced critics of the new Germany last night before a crowd of 250 at a public meeting baying the advent of summer.

Speaking with the denunciation, he made a confident assertion that Germany has a right to claim equality, and expressed superlative confidence in the future of the Third Reich.

"Critics of the Third Reich are like those who fought over their best," Goebbels said. "Any kind of criticism may be offered, but only criticism which has worked to produce something."

Sinking of British Cruiser Hampshire Carrying Field-Marshal Laid To Door of Secret Service.

HALIFAX, June 22.—Sinking of the British cruiser Hampshire which carried Field-Marshal Lord Kitchener, commander-in-chief of the British army in the World War, to the bottom of the North Sea was caused by two German secret service agents masquerading as members of the crew according to an intriguing story told in Halifax Thursday by Captain Edmund Hovgaard, commander of the Polish liner Konstantynow.

Captain Hovgaard speaks 12 languages and was decorated as a hero by the allied nations for his services in the war. Once he fought off a German submarine in the Baltic sea.

"SUBS COME"
Twelve years after the war he met the submarine's commander in Hamburg, who told him an inside story of the sinking of the Hampshire, according to the story told in Halifax for the first time.

Captain von Swierger, who, Captain Hovgaard said, was the greatest of all German submarine officers, is the authority for the tale which may clear up the greatest of all war mysteries. The tale met by accident, became friends and discovered their war experiences in a Hamburg tavern.

The German high command did not know the route of the Hampshire, according to the story told by commander von Swierger to Captain Hovgaard.

OFFER OF MONUMENT
"An offer was made to erect a monument to the Kaiser and in the aftermath of the ship carrying Kitchener was destroyed."

"Somehow they were able to explode the Hampshire's magazine," Kitchener said. "It was the story which Captain Hovgaard told me was told him by Commander von Swierger, who told me that he had seen the wreckage of the Hampshire's crew and took their place on board the cruiser."

Only car under $4000 with a V-8 Engine

NEW FORD V-8

Definite reasons for the superior performance and efficiency of the V-type engine

THERE'S NO guessing about the superiority of V-type engines. They hold every major record on land, on water and in the air. For years they have been used for the finest motor cars in this country.

We designed a V-type engine for the Ford because it has certain basic, fundamental advantages that cannot be duplicated in any other type. It costs more to build a V-type engine—a great deal more. But we abhor that cost for the sake of getting better performance on the road. Here are just a few of the advantages of Ford V-8 design.

MORE EFFICIENT DESIGN—
The Ford V-8 engine is more efficient because of V-8 design. The eight cylinders are divided into two short banks of four each and placed opposite each other in a compact V-shape design—instead of being strung out in a long straight line.

ONE-PIECE CASTING of cylinder design—instead of being strung out in a long straight line. SHORTER CRANKSHAFT—permits use of shorter, more rigid crankshaft. This reduces vibration.

BETTER FUEL DISTRIBUTION—shorter and wider fuel passages to cylinders increase efficiency.

SIMPLE COOLING SYSTEM—Ford V-8 design brings all cylinders close together and results in simpler cooling system within the engine.

MORE EFFICIENT LUBRICATION—Oil lines are shorter in the Ford because of V-8 design. Greater force of oil to travel. More efficient lubrication.

GREATER SMOOTHNESS because of inherently correct engine balance resulting from 90° V-8 design with 90° spacing of crank throws on fully counterbalanced crankshaft. Precision weighing of pistons and connecting-rods assures accurate running balance.

INCREASED BODY ROOM—Ford V-8 engine takes up less space in body because of shorter, more compact design. It is one reason why the Ford V-8 has more interior room than any other low-price car.

THE Ford V-8 engine is outstanding in service because it combines V-8 performance with economy. It delivers more horsepower per gallon of fuel than any Ford engine ever built.

THE PUBLIC BUILDINGS
PROGRAM

The public works construction program brought down on Ottawa after seven months of intensive study and discussion, has been semi-officially predicted, except that the amount to be spent has been estimated at $50,000,000 in preference to less than $40,000,000 in the estimate. The money is to be spent in a major part in the erection of public buildings.

There is nothing in the program to show
that it would have been improper to announce
it weeks ago and get the program started
because of the pending provincial elections.
Mr. Bennett was over-enthusiastic on that point.
The election of Sir John Dill was a factor
hardly has been considered in an attempt to "bribe
them with their own money." More likely they have been thought of as a factor.

It is explained this program is intended to
"give employment to as large number of persons
in as many walks of human activity as may be possible." It is a program to be part in solving the unemployment problem.
Also that the money is being allocated for expenditures in the nine provinces with
regard to their relative populations.

The latter point seems to have been kept in
mind fairly well in dividing up the money.
Since the largest amount is to go to the provinces having the largest populations. Unfortunately the principle was not carried to the point of
apportioning the grants with regard to the size
of the city, either as a percentage of the
population or in the same province or in other provinces.

Thus, while the sum of $200,000 is to be spent in Edmonton, $1,200,000 is set aside for expenditure in Calgary, cities with a population of 100,000. And against the $200,000 to be spent in Edmonton, with a population of 70,000, the sum
of $400,000 is to be spent in Regina, population
50,000; $600,000 in Windsor, population 65,000;
$1,500,000 in London, population 70,000; and
$2,000,000 in Halifax, population 50,000.

The population was the basis on which the grants
were calculated, the method of calculating them
was a good deal of explaining.

A worse feature is that no attention whatever seems to have been paid to the fact that unemployment does not exist in equal proportion throughout Canada. It is not officially at Ottawa, and is undoubtedly a fact,
that unemployment is far more prevalent in the
western half of Canada than in the eastern half.
That vital consideration appears to have been
disregarded entirely. It is imagined that $200,000
will go as far to relieve unemployment in Edmonton as nine times that amount will go
to solve the difficulty in Halifax; where by all
reports the improvement in export trade has
brought a pretty good proportion of those
formerly unemployed.

As to the other object, that of spending the
money so as to give employment to as many persons in as many different occupations as possible—the program is obviously absurd. Of $385,000,000 to be spent, $32,224,500 is to be spent in the erection of large public buildings, mainly
of steel and brick and stone construction, steel
bridges, harbor works, piers and elevators.

Half this amount or more will go for
municipal buildings, and the remainder for trial establishments which will have been officially
reported to have experienced a pronounced up-
turn in business and a fair extension of employment during the past year. The remainder
will go to certain groups of skilled artisans and mechanics. The laborer will be left on the sideline watching the building go up.

Only $7,641,400 remains to be spent in undertakings of various kinds in which there will be
opportunity for the employment of "pick and shovel" men, who, it is supposed, constitute
the great mass of those needing employment.

As a means of giving diversified employment, the plan is a failure. It is a plan with requirements that are as regards the distribution of the money according to the varying
needs of different sections of the country.

The outstanding feature of the program is
that the amount provided is only about one-
tenth as large as the circumstances require.
Supplemented by $100,000,000 loaned to the
provinces and cities at low interest rates, the
policy which carries out public improvements, something worth while would be done to set out
hundreds of thousands of men at work, importing employment and to irrigate the dry
channels of business with a real infusion of
buying power.

A GREAT DAY IN ALBERTA

To speak of Dr. C. P. Marker among Alberta is to start people thinking of the industry of this province, what it is, and
what it was not, forty years ago, and what it

has since become, largely through his efforts
and foresight.

Dr. Marker was a gift of Denmark to Canada, one of many enterprising and capable
young men who have come from that country
to enrich the Dominion through their industry
and special training in dairying and allied
branches of farming.

When the Dominion Government, in the late
thirties, decided to assist in the establishment of creameries in the territory of Alberta, Mr.
Marker was sent to direct the operations. He has been here ever since, and the organized dairy industry, producing millions of dollars worth of products every year and shipping to Europe and the Orient, bespeaks the development of his efforts and the record of his work.

He holds the position of provincial dairy commissioner with a played in and successful career.

MORE SURPLUSES IN SIGHT

A Washington specialist has discovered that long waves of red, orange and yellow light rays
have an "almost marvellous power" to rouse people from their dormant winter state and start them growing months ahead of time.

The discovery is said to be of immense benefit to farmers. It also holds promise for townfolk. Perhaps after a while we shall be able to go down cellar in January and bring up the market of a fresh vegetable salad, grown under red, orange and yellow electric light bulbs.

With his Government paying farmers to plow under crops and keep land out of cultivation, and Canada's federal and provincial Governments forcing legislation that will forbid a farmer to plow to keep on plowing, a peck of turnips without first getting permission from some official Pook-Bah, it does seem that the ingenious agricultural scientist at the department at Washington might have been spending his time to better advantage.

He may even get himself fired for winter storage of surplus crops, but the politically distressing surplus, winter and summer. If Hon. Henry Wallace has to do with it, the money is to be spent in a major part in the erection of public buildings.

There is nothing in the program to show
that it would have been improper to announce
it weeks ago and get the program started
because of the pending provincial elections.
Mr. Bennett was over-enthusiastic on that point.
The election of Sir John Dill was a factor
hardly has been considered in an attempt to "bribe
them with their own money." More likely they
have been thought of as a factor.

It is explained this program is intended to
"give employment to as large number of persons
in as many walks of human activity as
may be possible." It is a program to be
part in solving the unemployment problem.
Also that the money is being allocated for
expenditures in the nine provinces with
regard to their relative populations.

The latter point seems to have been kept in
mind fairly well in dividing up the money.
Since the largest amount is to go to the
provinces having the largest populations. Unfortunately
the principle was not carried to the point of
apportioning the grants with regard to the size
of the city, either as a percentage of the
population or in the same province or in other provinces.

Thus, while the sum of $200,000 is to be
spent in Edmonton, $1,200,000 is set aside for expenditure in Calgary, cities with a population of 100,000. And against the $200,000 to be spent in Edmonton, with a population of 70,000, the sum
of $400,000 is to be spent in Regina, population
50,000; $600,000 in Windsor, population 65,000;
$1,500,000 in London, population 70,000; and
$2,000,000 in Halifax, population 50,000.

The population was the basis on which the grants
were calculated, the method of calculating them
was a good deal of explaining.

A worse feature is that no attention what-
ever seems to have been paid to the fact that
unemployment does not exist in equal proportion throughout Canada. It is not
officially at Ottawa, and is undoubtedly a fact,
that unemployment is far more prevalent in the
western half of Canada than in the eastern half.
That vital consideration appears to have been
disregarded entirely. It is imagined that $200,000
will go as far to relieve unemployment in Edmonton as nine times that amount will go
to solve the difficulty in Halifax; where by all
reports the improvement in export trade has
brought a pretty good proportion of those
formerly unemployed.

As to the other object, that of spending the
money so as to give employment to as many
persons in as many different occupations as possible—the program is obviously absurd. Of
in the erection of large public buildings, mainly
of steel and brick and stone construction, steel
bridges, harbor works, piers and elevators.

Half this amount or more will go for
municipal buildings, and the remainder for
trial establishments which will have been officially
reported to have experienced a pronounced up-
turn in business and a fair extension of employment during the past year. The remainder
will go to certain groups of skilled artisans and
mechanics. The laborer will be left on the
sideline watching the building go up.

Only $7,641,400 remains to be spent in undertakings of various kinds in which there will be
opportunity for the employment of "pick and
shovel" men, who, it is supposed, constitute
the great mass of those needing employment.

As a means of giving diversified employment, the plan is a failure. It is a plan with requirements that are as regards the distribution of the money according to the varying
needs of different sections of the country.

The outstanding feature of the program is
that the amount provided is only about one-
tenth as large as the circumstances require.
Supplemented by $100,000,000 loaned to the
provinces and cities at low interest rates, the
policy which carries out public improvements, some-
thing worth while would be done to set out
hundreds of thousands of men at work, importing employment and to irrigate the dry
channels of business with a real infusion of
buying power.

A GREAT DAY IN ALBERTA

To speak of Dr. C. P. Marker among Alberta is to start people thinking of the
industry of this province, what it is, and
what it was not, forty years ago, and what it

has since become, largely through his efforts
and foresight.

Dr. Marker was a gift of Denmark to Canada, one of many enterprising and capable
young men who have come from that country
to enrich the Dominion through their industry
and special training in dairying and allied
branches of farming.

When the Dominion Government, in the late
thirties, decided to assist in the establishment

Try This Delicious Russian Dish

Leg of Lamb Is Foundation For Delicious Shashlik Caucasian

Recipes of foreign lands are becoming more and more popular in America. Indolent appetites often are tempted by some new and novel dish which originated thousands of miles from the family dinner table.

Shashlik Caucasian has long been a favorite recipe among Russian connoisseurs. It is a delectable dish and nutritious. The Russians serve an appetizing—followed by a thick soup made with sour cream and then Shashlik with fresh, green vegetables. They usually complete the meal with some sort of an ice cream confection and black coffee.

Here's the way the Russian Art Restaurant in New York prepares Shashlik Caucasian:

Trim off all the fat from a leg of lamb. Bone it and cut the meat into strips and then into one and one-half inch squares. Allow eight or nine squares for each person to be served. Mix with salt, pepper and small slices of onion. Pour over one-half cup of cherry wine and let the mixture and place in the icebox over night.

The next day place alternate pieces of half-pinted tomato and squares of lamb on skewers. (Your own meat market can supply you with either wood or metal skewers.) Simply put about eight or nine squares of lamb and the same number of slices of tomato on each skewer. Then place them under the broiler to cook until well done and slightly browned on the outside.

When ready to serve, arrange one skewer on each dinner plate. Surround it by slices of cucumber, raw carrots cut in strips, pickled beets, cabbage salad, a bit of lettuce and any other green vegetables which you fancy.

Screen Star Retains Pep With Salt Baths

By GLADYS GLAD
 "America's Most Famous Beauty" THE LOVELY and winsome Mary Brian, who has more boy friends on her list than any other of the Hollywood damsels, possesses an amazing amount of pep and vitality, even on the most debilitating summer days.

Mary is a firm believer in the revivifying effects of salt rubs. She gives her body salt rubs frequently during the hot weather. And she claims that they not only refresh her, but also help to keep her skin soft and satin-smooth.

Salt rubs really are excellent for people who work or play at the expense of nervous energy. They are immeasurably invigorating and refreshing. They tone up the circulation of the whole body, and counteract the effects of fatigue. And they assist one greatly in recovering from the weariness and tension of hot summer days.

It really is very simple to take a salt rub. The first thing to do is to step under your shower and dampen your whole body. Then take a handful of salt and rub the body thoroughly until the skin flutters and tingles. While your skin is still raw from the friction, step under the shower again and rinse every particle of the salt from your skin. Do not allow any salty residue to remain on your body, as salt has a somewhat drying effect on the skin.

If you haven't a shower in your home, of course, you'll find it rather difficult to take a salt rub. But in that case, you may substitute a salt bath, and you'll find it just as beneficial. The salt bath is a tonic bath, and gives the body a spiritually invigorated and refreshed feeling. You know how marvellously refreshing a plunger in the briny ocean proves. And you can obtain practically the same effect merely by making a miniature ocean of your own bathtub.

To make your tub a miniature ocean, fill it with water that is of summer ocean temperature—from 62 to 72 degrees. Dissolve at least a pound of salt in this water, then, reserving just enough to massage your body well in clear water. And as the final step, administer a brisk rub-down with a Turkish towel.

Your Children

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

The trouble with children is that time is so long for them they forget. One year is a century. What happened last summer is gone as completely as yesterday.

Who was drowned, or hurt swimming, is only a vague dream. But has no bearing on present. It is always a new day with new urges and experiments.

Not only that but their memory is limited. They have no general knowledge of accidents. O. R. Barton. They do not read the papers. There are a season's toll of many hundreds of deaths by water, even in the summer season, does not affect their judgment.

I believe that we leave too many things for them to decide, trusting to their knowledge of danger. We think they have the same perspective as we have—that the many accidents which have happened in their minds the same as they have in ours with resulting caution.

CHILDREN FORGET

Not so. Probably not the small child some real reason for not remembering. Take a pencil and draw circles around the water on the surface of a river, illustrating the power of forgetfulness under water. Show him what a "back hole" is and quackquack.

Draw a cork with old broken pieces or pound-holes, which are holes and on which he may strike his head when he dives. Or runken boats or out of the accumulation of years that usually surround facts.

Recalls what "cramp" really means. It is only a word to him. Too bad he is taking the joy out of life, but it is better than taking life. A pool with all ice risks is still much safer than a river swarming with a guard. Some hundreds of children will be drowned this year, perhaps. What will they be? We might begin right now to chat death.

Who Are You?

This is a name of great antiquity, being derived from the ancient Welsh name Brys. The custom of Wales of designating the son of the father by the prefix Ap changed the form to Ap Brys, and the name eventually became shortened to Brys and finally Brice.

The coat of arms here shown was granted to Hugh Brice, of Somersetshire, England, in 1573, and is identical with the arms borne by the Brice family of Maryland, early represented by Sir Brice, cartographer who settled on the Severn River, Maryland.

The New England family of Brice was founded in Colonial times by Thomas Brice, who came from England and settled in Gloucester, Mass.

THIS REALLY ADDS INSULT TO INJURY

By SISTER MARY

The lovely gooseberry makes a surprisingly vivid dessert and a very spicy conserve. If you have room in a corner of your garden for a few bushes, you will find them well worth planting this fall. They are rapid of growth and prolific bearers.

Gooseberries are simple to grow. One quart gooseberries, 1 cup water, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup lard, 1 cup whipping cream. Put and tell the gooseberries into the average family. Other fruits such as raspberries and strawberries are sometimes substituted for gooseberries, but the confection is best as our grandmothers did it.

South Siders Eliminate Cubs From First-Half of Senior Baseball Race

by
—BILL LEWIS—

Over the rolling highways, and around the circuitous and scenic Mayfair, on even 120 golfers tomorrow begin the grid that is to name Edmonton's amateur champion for 1934. The entry list this year marks record proportions and one of the keenest battles in a long time is anticipated for the honor of wearing the city crown.

Scattered through the long list of starters are some outstanding wielders of wood and iron who promise to make a name for themselves for the championship. The task of trying to name a probable winner is much too hard to handle, for there are far too many of them, and veterans who have been there for the championship.

Before that is reacted, however, there are stiff rounds of medal and match play to be handled in which many a favorite will meet his master. With the tourney in their home course, there are some Mayfair stars who must be highly rated, but the real test of club in the city has contenders who will be right in the thick of the title race.

Unfortunately for those who wanted to play the ladies' championship event was cancelled when only eight entered for competition. Those in charge felt that such a small entry did not justify the holding of the ladies' tournament in conjunction with the men's and junior championships.

A sorrowful looking bunch of ball-hunters must have trudged into the Cub's quarters last night after their Senior League game with South Side Athletics. Leading 20 at one stage, and coming from behind to tie the score at 9:30 later, Cub-saw their season beaten on a wet pitch in the ninth inning. "What would make them feel the loss more than usual was the fact that the set-back knocked them right out of the running in the first half of the league race. Now, it's just a case of them waiting until the second half begins. But there's going to be a regular do-fight among the ball-hunters for the honors before this half-fin.

Each of them has a chance to win out.

Those long prices that were featuring the Polo Park race were tamed down a whole lot yesterday when favorites came home in four out of the seven events on the card. A wet track has been wreaking havoc on the "form" players. There is a deal in the "Peg" meeting.

There should be a pair of "big" interesting matches in the semifinals of the City and County tennis championships tonight. If it does not hold them in the Harry Kinloch, city and former provincial champion, faces his opponent, Jack Oliver, who is a former city and provincial titleholder, meet Stan Moner.

Each team has a chance to win out.

JUNIOR SQUADS PLAY TONIGHT

With a warning ring throughout the city, the Junior Squads will play their first game of the season tonight at 8:00 o'clock. A lot of drying in the air, and a few more clouds will be in shape, but warm sunshine is the tonic that will fix the lot.

The second place North Edmonton squad will be seeking the win that will put them one game nearer the league leading. The boys' team will be out to make certain that they will top the loop at the end of the first half and a few more rounds will do the trick.

Servants Choose Cricket Eleven

The team to represent the Civil Servants in the King Edward Park ground Saturday will be selected from the following:

Husband Of Socialite To Return

When their relief pitcher, Glen Wilkie, cut loose with a wild pitch in the ninth inning to allow Labick to score from third base, Cubs' pitcher, Royce, was beating South Side Athletics' pitcher at South Side last night and bowed to a 2-0 defeat.

HEART-BREAKING END

It was a heart-breaking finish for the Cubs. With the score tied at 2-2 in the ninth inning, Wilkie went to the mound to receive Oates' who had been hit by a line drive in the previous inning. Pitching to Herman Labick, first base gave up a single to left field. Montgomery, Herman's second base, before Green drew a walk to get two South Siders on the path.

FINO FIERMONTE

In the Civil Service tennis tournament some brilliant matches were witnessed Thursday despite uncertain weather conditions. Outstanding match of the evening was the one featuring the two old rivals, "Acrobatic" Alf Blyth and Jimmy Hoyle, who again run through off with the honors. It was a two pointer, but Blyth and every error was costly. Blyth's steady play and performance the second is likely to go to an indefinite time.

LUTZ IS LEADING BATTER IN JUNIOR BALL LEAGUE

Has Large Margin Over Other Hitters With .500 Per Cent.

"Hippo" Lutz, Saturday's clever young batsman, has been hitting "em hard" in the Junior Ball League during the early part of the season. He leads all batters in the circuit by a wide margin, getting seven hits in 14 times at bat for a percentage of .500. "Scotty" Moore, who started left field for the third place Arrow Bunch, is runner up to Lutz with a percentage of .485.

Effective batting by mound stars of all teams has been largely responsible for the poor batting made by most batters. Yew have hit over the 300 mark while a number are below one hundred per cent.

Only four leading batters on each team are listed. They are players who have played the most games. There are, however, four who have percentages of 400 or better. Lutz, who has played 14 games, has hit 10 times in 20 at bats. Moore has hit 10 times in 20 at bats. Moore has hit 10 times in 20 at bats. Moore has hit 10 times in 20 at bats.

Record Wreckers

Jack Lovelock of Oxford University reigns supreme no longer as king of the milers. At the Princeton University track meet, last Saturday, Glenn Cunningham, Kansas star, strangled him and ran the mile in the sensational time of 4:06.7, nearly a full second faster than Lovelock's mile. At the same meet Ben Eastman of California ran the half mile in world record time of 1:48.0. Below are shown the two new champions, Cunningham, right, and Ben Eastman. Both these runners were frail children and have each overcome severe handicaps to achieve record in athletics.

Defeat of the Favorite In Famed Cup Race Is Blow to Experts

ASCOT, England, June 22.—Rain caused dry spirits as the Royal Ascot turf meeting continued yesterday, but the smashing defeat of the odd-on favorite in the historic Gold Cup, greatest international race of the year, dampened a white hot race.

E.A.C. JUNIORS HOLD PRACTICE

There will be a practice of the Edmonton Athletic Club junior basketball team at Boyle Street park on Saturday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock.

Well Dug In 1866 Is Dry For First Time

HAWATHA, Kan., June 22.—For the first time a well at the Brown county fairgrounds is dry. Old citizens recall the well was dug in 1866, and that while the fair was being held it provided water for spectators. It has been years since fairs have been held, but livestock grazing on the land have used water from the old well.

Winnipeg Events Closer To Form Than Any Previous Day

Winnipeg, June 22.—Things went a little better Thursday afternoon at Polo Park. The track saw a sharp shower of rain at 2:45 p.m. which seemed to lighten up temporarily, and to and behold, if four favorites did not come lolling along to victory.

Madafat Winner

Dropped behind where he really belongs, Madafat raced over the leaders entering the stretch in the third embolism to win very handsily. Just Cost was favored over Budover and Somers Choice, but was out of the race led for half a mile with Budover in close attendance.

Lead Changes Often

Dusty lead early on until Royal Flirt came swinging along and out a lam at the first turn and took command. Royal Flirt then straightened, was chased when he then faltered, let the ultimate winner go clear. Brown Jug closed menacingly in last sixteenth, but was some length between five horses.
